

Health IT Quick-Stat #29

EHR Vendors Reported by Hospitals Participating in the CMS EHR Incentive Programs

March 2014

Number of Hospitals Reporting Entity as their Primary and/or Secondary Certified EHR Vendor

Notes:

Within a hospital's EHR system, a primary EHR is a complete EHR or, if the hospital does not have a complete EHR, it is the EHR that meets the most Meaningful Use criteria. If a hospital has two or more complete EHRs, all of these EHRs are considered primary for the purpose of this report. A secondary EHR is any additional modular EHR used within the hospital's EHR system.

*79 of the 130 Other Vendors only supply secondary EHRs to participating hospitals. Of the 51 Other Vendors that supply hospitals their primary EHR, 45 vendors supply a primary EHR to less than 10 total hospitals with 29 vendors supplying a primary EHR to only one hospital each.

Data:

The most current dataset can be downloaded from the Health IT Dashboard's Datasets page:

<http://dashboard.healthit.gov/data/>. The data file – <http://dashboard.healthit.gov/data/EHR-vendors-count-dataset.xlsx> - included the most current vendor counts, as well as trend data beginning in April 2011.

Summary:

As of March 2014, 160 health IT vendors supply certified EHR products to 4,404 hospitals participating in the CMS EHR Incentive Programs.

MEDITECH, Epic Systems, and Cerner comprise 50% of the market share of primary certified EHRs for participating hospitals. Furthermore, the top 9 EHR vendors provide the primary EHR for 9 out of 10 hospitals. For the remaining 151 hospital EHR vendors, 70% of all hospitals reporting these vendors report the vendor's product as their secondary EHR.
